Everything is submitted or completed through Moodle. Nothing is emailed.

There are four multiple choice exams (plus one make up exam) that can be taken twice. You can see your errors after the first attempt. The exams are available from the beginning of the semester, but each has to be completed by a certain date in the semester. The purpose of the exams is just to make sure students read.

The main assignments in the course are discussion assignments that must be completed usually during a two week period. There are also a couple of other assignments including a research paper that is due near the end of the semester.

Unfortunately, I do not have a syllabus that will show you specific dates. Those are visible on the course page. You can see precisely when everything is due once you log in on the first day.

Hope that helps.

Subject: HIS-152-WB Reconstruction to Present (Fall20)

Can you explain how exams, assignments are taken? Do we have a day/week to complete quiz or is it under some fixed hours or some window period in which it should have to complete? Are we sending answers through some web platforms or through email? Can you also send a tentative syllabus so that I can have an idea about how much preparation time I will have for each quiz? Thanks.
